HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

ARTHUR SCHNEIER

Founder and President of the Appeal of Conscience Foundation
Senior Rabbi at Park East Synagogue in New York City

He was just 8 years old when, like all members of Austria's Jewish community, he became a pariah. After Nazi tanks rolled into Vienna in March of 1938, his Christian friends turned on him. He was banned from his school, the candy store, the park, and the cinema.

Months after Arthur Schneier watched police and firemen stand by as rioters burned down his synagogue on Kristallnacht, the Night of Broken Glass, he and his widowed mother began a harrowing journey. They escaped to Budapest, Hungary, living in hiding through World War II, often separately and always in fear of capture and deportation to the death camps where his grandparents and 6 million other Jews, including 1.5 million children like him, perished.

During those dark years, Schneier made a promise to God: If he survived the atrocities he witnessed, he vowed to dedicate his life to promoting peaceful coexistence of people of all faiths. Seventy-five years later, the founder and president of the Appeal of Conscience Foundation and the senior rabbi at New York City's historic Park East Synagogue continues to fulfill his promise.

For his tireless and unrelenting advocacy on behalf of religious freedom, human rights, tolerance, and the resolution of ethnic and religious conflict around the world, Rabbi Arthur Schneier is receiving a Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.

Known as a rabbi/diplomat, he has spent his life traveling the world, meeting presidents and premiers, popes and grand muftis, communists and atheists, and people of all faiths, trying to ensure that religion is never used as a pretext for murder and oppression.

"God must have saved me for a reason," Schneier has said. "I repay every day so that others do not have to suffer what I had to endure."

After the Red Army liberated Budapest, Schneier returned to Vienna to finish school, and in 1947 emigrated to New York City, enrolling at Yeshiva University, which later established the Rabbi Arthur Schneier Program for International Affairs in his honor. He was ordained in 1955, and in 1962 became the senior rabbi at Park East, a dwindling congregation where he soon founded the still-thriving Rabbi Arthur Schneier Park East Day School.

Through his decades of visionary leadership, the synagogue became a major center of religious educational life, inter-religious outreach, and social action, which blossomed in January 1965 when his concern over the growing persecution of Jews in the former Soviet Union compelled him to organize human-rights activists, politicians, and interfaith clergy for an "Appeal of Conscience" rally.

Intended to be a singular event, the protest galvanized such immense support that Schneier established the Appeal of Conscience Foundation (ACF) to harness the moral energy of a coalition of interfaith business and religious leaders. On behalf of religious freedom and human rights, he led 85 ACF missions to the former Soviet Union, China, Europe, the Middle East, and Latin America, strengthening people-to-people relations with the U.S. and winning the release of political prisoners in Argentina and Cuba.

In 1994, during the Yugoslav conflict, the Catholic, Muslim, and Serbian religious leaders he brought to Switzerland for their first meeting adopted his signature statement, "A crime perpetrated in the name of religion is the greatest crime against religion." In 1998, President Bill Clinton sent him to Beijing to meet with Chinese President Jiang Zemin for the U.S. and China's first dialogue on religious freedom.

In 2008, he hosted Pope Benedict XVI, the first pope to visit a U.S. synagogue, and the following year, he welcomed the Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew I, with whom he convened the first international conference of religious leaders from the Balkans, Caucasus, and Central Asia.

In 2001, ACF helped sponsor the United Nations resolution on the protection of religious sites and, in the wake of the recent deadly attacks on houses of worship, served as a voice of conscience to stem the tide of all forms of xenophobia, anti-Semitism, and hatred.

A former U.S. alternate representative to the United Nations, chair of the U.S. Commission for the Preservation of America's Heritage Abroad, and ambassador to the U.N. Alliance of Civilizations, Schneier is a vice president of the World Jewish Congress and a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum Committee on Conscience.

He has received many honors over his lifetime, including the Presidential Citizens Medal bestowed by President Clinton for devoting his life "to overcoming forces of hatred and intolerance"; the Department of State Special Recognition Award for "his ecumenical work in favor of mutual understanding, tolerance, and peace"; the rare Papal Knighthood of St. Sylvester, conferred by Pope Francis for "his unceasing work to promote peace and mutual understanding"; France's Legion of Honour Award; and the highest awards bestowed by Albania, Austria, Croatia, Germany, Hungary, Italy, Morocco, Poland, Russia, Spain, and the U.S. Senate.

For his inspiring example of using spiritual leadership to promote interfaith dialogue, intercultural understanding, and religious freedom around the world, the University of Miami is proud to honor Rabbi Arthur Schneier.

THE GREAT SEAL OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI

The Great Seal of the University of Miami symbolizes exceptional scholarship, a limitless quest for knowledge, and an abiding commitment to service shared by University faculty, staff, and students. The Great Seal includes a stylized sun and palm tree, as well as a shield with the traditional symbols of education—a key, a book, and a torch. The key signifies the unlocking, discovery, or re-evaluation of learning and knowledge; the book holds the Latin words for discovery, preservation, and dissemination of knowledge; and the torch symbolizes the spread and dissemination of learning. Below the shield is the University's Latin motto, from the Book of Esdras, Magna Est Veritas: Great Is Truth.

THE MACE

The academic mace, an enduring symbol of institutional authority and prestige, is a vestige from prehistoric times. First used as a battle weapon, the mace evolved into a ceremonial staff carried in processions of royalty, magistrates, and church or university officials.

The University of Miami's current mace, which dates back to 1986, was sculpted by former art professor William Ward. He chose a contemporary design, one that reflects the University's timelessness and perpetual growth from a young institution to one of national prominence. The clean lines and polished silver surface are elegant, dignified, and reflective of colors, textures, and forms in the ever-changing environment. Ward indicated that timelessness is further represented by the mace's geometric design. Rather than employing symbols like books, candles, or globes, he noted that "these geometric shapes are not tied to fad or style but are an integral part of our world.

There are obvious relationships to mathematics and the sciences, and as the mace is rotated, some of the planes at the top resemble letters. Its complexity is like the unfolding plot of a good story."

The University of Miami's mace serves as a symbolic weapon to protect the ideals of truth, justice, and learning. During the commencement ceremony, it is carried at the head of the academic procession by the grand marshal, whose symbolic duty is the protection of the University, its people, and its processes.

In 2019, staff and faculty in the Department of Theatre Arts performed preservation and restoration work on the mace, crafting a new base and reviving the original sheen so that, after decades of use, the mace continues to play its role in the University's commencement ceremonies.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI PRESIDENTIAL CHAIR

The University of Miami Presidential Chair, or cathedra, takes its place on the commencement stage as a symbol of the Office of the President. Traditionally representing the seat of learning, the cathedra was designed and crafted by master furniture maker Austin Matheson, an adjunct professor in the School of Architecture whose family history in South Florida predates the University's 1925 founding.

Matheson carved and joined what appear to be the seamless pieces of the chair from a single slab of highly prized and once-abundant Cuban mahogany wood. It was salvaged from a tree felled by a hurricane in nearby Coconut Grove. The fluidity of his design represents the idea that "We Are One U," while his use of a contemporary style and a few traditional flourishes represent the University's rich past and promising future. "The chair is unique. It has no precedent. It stands alone," Matheson said.

Etched by laser, the Great Seal of the University of Miami is prominently displayed on the splat, or back, of the chair. More subtly, twin silhouettes of an ibis head, with its graceful beak, adorn each side of the crest rail. Known for its invincible spirit when hurricanes approach, the marsh bird has been the school mascot since the University opened its doors, just a month after the hurricane of 1926 devastated Miami. Like the chair, the ibis continues to be a symbol of our resilience and renewal as we approach our new century.

ACADEMIC HONORS AND REGALIA

The ceremonies of commencement immerse us in the rich tradition of academic honors and dress that reaches back to the early days of the world's oldest universities.

The University of Miami awards degrees in three basic divisions—the doctorate, master's, and baccalaureate—which can be traced to medieval times. The student receiving a “first degree in arts” was crowned with a wreath of laurel berries, hence “baccalaureate” and “bachelor.” The master's degree was a license to teach (Licentia docendi), so the “master” was an appropriate title. The doctor was even better qualified to teach, for this degree required advanced study, independent research, and defense of a “thesis.” These standards still apply to the doctorate, except for those conferred honoris causa (as honorary degrees) for meritorious service in public or private endeavor.

Some degrees are awarded with special recognition. For those who have achieved appropriate standards in their work, the words cum laude (with praise), magna cum laude (with high praise), and summa cum laude (with highest praise) are used. These achievements are recorded on diplomas and in official transcripts.

From medieval practice, academic dress has three items: cap, gown, and hood. In reviving the use of these items for the United States, an intercollegiate commission in 1895 drafted a code that most universities, including the University of Miami, follow.

For all degrees, the mortarboard is the traditional cap. The tassel may be gold for a doctor or may indicate the field of study.

The bachelor's gown is black with long, pointed, open sleeves. The master's gown is black with a long, closed sleeve hanging below the elbow. The doctor's gown is black and is distinguished by three bars of velvet on a full sleeve.

The academic hood is the identifying symbol of the degree. Its length indicates which degree it represents: three feet for the baccalaureate, three-and-a-half for the master's, and four for the doctorate. The lining indicates the college or university that awarded the degree. University of Miami hoods are lined in orange, green, and white. The color of the velvet band represents the academic discipline. The most frequently seen colors are white for arts, yellow for science, pink for music, sapphire blue for philosophy, purple for law, scarlet for divinity, green for medicine, light blue for education, drab for business, orange for engineering, violet for architecture, gray for general studies, and apricot for nursing.

President Julio Frenk wears a black robe with four black velvet bars. The fourth chevron indicates this is the presidential regalia. The gown features orange and green piping as well as a doctoral hood lined in orange, green, and white—reflecting the official University of Miami school colors.

THE PRESIDENT'S MEDAL

Established by former President Donna E. Shalala in 2003 and embossed with the Great Seal of the University of Miami, the University of Miami President's Medal honors individuals for their outstanding leadership, distinguished accomplishment in their fields of expertise, or contributions to society. For their extraordinary and enduring commitment to the University of Miami's success, alumni Patti, B.B.A. '57, and Allan Herbert, B.B.A. '55, M.B.A. '58, are receiving President's Medals. The Herberts, who met and fell in love as students while earning their degrees from the business school, have contributed more than $100 million to the University over the past six decades. Their generosity includes a landmark investment that will position the business school, recently renamed the University of Miami Patti and Allan Herbert Business School, as a global leader in the transformation of business education and as a home for the learners, scholars, and entrepreneurs who will reshape the future of business. The Herberts join an illustrious group of past President's Medal recipients who have championed the University, the community, or noble endeavors that have enriched our world.

THE MUSIC OF THE CEREMONY

UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI FANFARE

Great universities throughout the country begin their halftime performances with a special fanfare consisting of small portions of their school fight songs and alma mater. The fanfare signals the start of halftime festivities, exciting the crowd and encouraging loyal fans to remain in their seats during the band's performance. Following the Miami Hurricane's National Championship season in 2001-2002, David Lambert, D.M.A. '05, wrote a similar fanfare for the University of Miami. "University of Miami Fanfare" was premiered by the University of Miami Band of the Hour during the 2004 Miami Hurricane home football opener versus Florida State University. It has since been performed as a prelude to all Band of the Hour performances and has become a part of the University of Miami's commencement to announce the opening of the ceremony.

PRESIDENT'S PROCESSIONAL FANFARE

Commencement ceremonies are rich in history, tradition, and ritual. Over the years, the University of Miami has had a number of talented musicians and composers contribute to that history and tradition. The "President's Processional Fanfare – Toward Our New Century" was commissioned by the Phillip and Patricia Frost School of Music for the inauguration of the University of Miami's sixth president, Julio Frenk. Written by Brian Balmages, M.M. '00, the fanfare premiered on January 29, 2016, at President Frenk's inauguration ceremony.

THE MUSIC OF HENRY FILLMORE

Henry Fillmore, the American composer and bandleader best known for his marches, was an ardent supporter, friend, and benefactor of the University of Miami band. After retiring to Miami, he quickly adopted the Band of the Hour at the University of Miami as his own. As a result, he was named "permanent guest conductor" of the band, and in appreciation of his dedication, the University awarded Fillmore an honorary doctorate in music. Fillmore's prominence as a band composer and his tireless dedication to the field of music remain his legacy. Benefiting most from his musical passion and artistry was the University of Miami band, to which he bequeathed most of his estate. The Henry Fillmore Band Hall, dedicated in 1959 along with the Fillmore Museum, is a symbol of that legacy.

The recessional music today is but a small part of his life's work. Each selection has a unique relationship to Miami and the University. "The Miami March" was dedicated to the community of Greater Miami, which enthusiastically supported Fillmore and his music.
