COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

PAT MITCHELL

Journalist, Producer, Media Executive
President and CEO Emerita of PBS

When Pat Mitchell was growing up in rural Georgia in the 1950s, television sets began trickling into stores, but her father, an appliance salesman, forbade the family from buying one. He viewed television as a bad influence, and worried how the new medium would affect his daughter.

Yet Mitchell would see the power of television to influence culture, open minds, and shape opinions, and throughout her four-decade television career as a pioneering journalist, producer, and executive, she leveraged its potential for positive social change—especially on behalf of women.

For her leadership in using media as a force for social good and her commitment to improve the representation of women across all sectors of society and elevate their stories, challenges, and accomplishments around the world, Pat Mitchell is receiving a Doctor of Humane Letters, honoris causa.

The first woman to serve as president of the Public Broadcasting Service (PBS), Mitchell was among the first women to report and anchor the news, report live from political conventions, and produce and host a national program for women. She also was the president of CNN Productions and CEO of the Paley Center for Media in New York and Los Angeles. In partnership with the TED organization, Mitchell launched TEDWomen in 2010 and continues as the editorial director, curator, and host of the annual global conference focused on the ideas and innovations of women.

“The protection of our rights and freedoms, the future of our democracy, and the sustainability of our planet depends on our being informed and willing to come together for a common cause,” Mitchell wrote in her forthcoming memoir, “Becoming a Dangerous Woman.”

After earning bachelor’s and master’s degrees in English literature from the University of Georgia, Mitchell taught English at her alma mater, but soon left the South with her son to write for Look, a weekly magazine in New York. Six months later, the magazine folded, and Mitchell was an unemployed, single mother.

Interviewing by day and waitressing at night, she set her sights on a career in television and landed a job at Boston’s WBZ-TV, where she anchored the news, produced a political show, and launched a daytime talk show for women. In 1974 she and her colleagues produced and hosted “Yes We Can,” 24 hours of live, history-making television programming for women. In the late 1970s Mitchell became the first female host of Washington, D.C.’s “Panorama,” a daily two-hour political talk show. Her reporting on addiction among the power players in Washington earned her first Emmy Award.

More than once, Mitchell left the security of a network job to pursue independent work. Establishing her own production company in the mid-1980s, she produced “Woman to Woman,” the first nationally syndicated program for women, which later became a weekly segment on NBC’s “Today” program.

syndicated program for women, which later became a weekly segment on NBC’s “Today” program.

In the early 1990s Mitchell was determined to pursue a story about women who were trying to forge peace in the Middle East, but lacking support from NBC, she went independent and global, covering the “troubles” in Northern Ireland, the civil war in El Salvador, and conflicts in the Middle East—stories that she told from the perspective of the women on the frontlines.

They became her first documentary, “Women in War: New Voices from the Frontlines.”

Returning to Georgia to join the executive team of media entrepreneur Ted Turner’s expanding cable empire that included the first 24-hour news channel, CNN, Mitchell produced hundreds of hours of documentaries, including “A Century of Women,” the untold history of women in America, and “Cold War,” the series for which she interviewed 600 world leaders on six continents. Her work at CNN Productions received 35 Emmys, five Peabody Awards, and two Academy Award nominations.

In 2000 Mitchell left CNN to become the first woman and first producer to lead PBS. Working with 344 local public television stations, she led the fight to sustain government funds for the country’s only public service media and added new programming to its schedule.

Today Mitchell remains a fierce advocate for advancing opportunities for women and girls and ending the violence and discrimination that impede their progress. She is a founding member of V-Day, a global movement to end violence against women everywhere; an active supporter of women’s empowerment organizations in Africa, India, and Latin America; and a member of the congressional commission to establish the first American Museum of Women’s History in Washington, D.C.

Mitchell also chairs the Sundance Institute, which nurtures independent artists and produces the Sundance Film Festival; co-chairs the Women’s Media Center, which awarded her its first Lifetime Achievement Award; and serves as a trustee of the Skoll Foundation and on the boards of Participant Media and the Acumen Fund. She also served on the corporate boards of Bank of America, Knight Ridder, Inc., and AOL.

For her extraordinary leadership in the media industry and her advocacy for equal rights and opportunities for all, but especially for women, the University of Miami is proud to honor Pat Mitchell.

CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES

The awarding of degrees and honors to the candidates named in this program is contingent upon the satisfactory completion of the appropriate requirements by each candidate. The listing of a student's name in this program in no way implies or ensures his or her graduation, or the award of honors. The information listed on the following pages is current as of March 28, 2019.

Moraes	Conor Joseph Smith B.S., 2011, College of Charleston Major: Applied Marine Physics Dissertation: Identification and Quantification of Wave Breaking Effects in Single-Polarization Along-Track InSAR Imagery of the Coastal Ocean Advisor: Roland Romeiser

Damon Burns Stambolian

M.S.I.E., 2002, University of Miami
Major: Industrial Engineering
Dissertation: Biomechanical Analysis of Accurately and Carefully Placing an Aerospace Avionics Box in Restricted Space
Advisor: Shihab S. Asfour

Philip Tauxe Staudigel

B.S., 2012, University of California, Santa Cruz
Major: Marine Geology and Geophysics
Dissertation: Application of Clumped Isotopes in the Study of Marine Diagenesis
Advisor: Peter K. Swart

Wendy Blair Stephan

B.A., 1991, University of Washington
M.P.H., 1998, University of Miami
Major: Epidemiology
Dissertation: Hispanic Ethnicity and Poison-Related Outcomes in Florida, 2010-2015
Advisor: David J. Lee

Molly Haynes Stevens

B.S., 2011, University of Florida
Major: Marine Biology and Fisheries
Dissertation: An Evaluation of Florida Commercial Reef Fisheries: Management History and Bioeconomic Consequences
Advisor: Jerald Stephen Ault

Soumya Sundara Rajan

B.S., 2013, University of Hyderabad, India
Major: Cancer Biology
Dissertation: Elucidating the Mechanism of Cancer-Drug Addition in ALK-ALKL
Advisor: Jonathan Schatz

Feifei Tao

B.S., 2010, Nanjing University, China
M.S., 2013, Nanjing University, China
Major: Human Genetics and Genomics
Dissertation: Identifying Genetic Modifiers in Charcot-Marie-Tooth Disease Type 1a
Advisor: Stephan Züchner

Miling Wang

B.S., 2011, Queens University, Canada
M.S., 2014, University of Toronto, Canada
Major: Biochemistry and Molecular Biology
Dissertation: Uncovering the Mechanisms of Physiological Amyloidogenesis
Advisor: Stephen Lee

Yunwei Xu

B.S., 2012, Zhejiang University, China
M.S., 2014, Florida International University
Major: Mechanical Engineering
Dissertation: An Orthotropic Augmented Finite Element Method for Progressive Damage Analyses of Laminated Composites
Advisor: Qingda Yang

Yu-Ping Yang

B.S., 1999, Taipei Medical College, Taiwan
Major: Biochemistry and Molecular Biology
Dissertation: Bioluminescence: An Old Tool for New Applications in Cancer Research
"Detection of Circulating Tumor Cells and Image-Guided Therapy"
Advisors: Sylvia Daunert and Richard Cote

Yuhang Yang

B.S., 2012, Dalian University of Technology, China
Masters, 2015, Zhejiang University, China
Major: Mechanical Engineering
Dissertation: Augmented Finite Element and Binary Model for Structural Applications
Advisor: Qingda Yang

DOCTOR OF EDUCATION

Degree candidates May 9, 2019

Carol Anne Clinton

B.A., 1987, University of West Indies, Barbados
M.S., 1998, Florida International University
Major: Higher Education Leadership
Dissertation: Defying the Stereotypes: The Factors that Influence the Persistence of Black Men in the Community College
Advisor: Carol-Anne Phekoo

Denise S. Cooper

B.B.A., 2002, Northwood University
M.B.A., 2005, University of Miami
Major: Higher Education Leadership
Dissertation: Black Student Retention at the University of Miami from the Perspective of UM Administrators
Advisor: Carol-Anne Phekoo

Justine Sara Green

B.S.Ed., 2013, University of Miami
M.A., 2015, Columbia University
Major: Higher Education Leadership
Dissertation: Factors Affecting Students' Utilization of Disability Services
Advisors: Soyeon Ahn and Carol-Anne Phekoo

Vanesa Del Socorro Lougheed

B.S., 2008, University of New Orleans
M.S.Tx., 2014, University of Miami
Major: Higher Education Leadership
Dissertation: The Economic Effects of DACA and State Policy on Undocumented Students and Society
Advisor: Carol-Anne Phekoo

Sean Nicholas McClain

B.A., 2006, Florida International University
M.B.A., 2010, Nova Southeastern University
Major: Higher Education Leadership
Dissertation: Effect of State-Level Outcomes-Based Funding on Graduation and Retention Rates of Hispanic Students at Two-Year Community Colleges
Advisors: Soyeon Ahn and Carol-Anne Phekoo

Melissa Caroline Ruidiaz

B.S., 2011, Nova Southeastern University
M.B.A., 2013, Florida Atlantic University
Major: Higher Education Leadership
Dissertation: Factors that Influence the First Generation College Student Success
Advisor: Soyeon Ahn

Nanette Vega

B.A., 1996, University of Massachusetts
M.A.L.S., 2006, University of Miami
Major: Higher Education Leadership
Dissertation: Examining the Mission: A Content Analysis of Office of Diversity and Inclusion Mission Statements
Advisor: Debbieciu L. Lee

Degree candidates August 10, 2019

Chelsea Jane Mulkey

B.A., 2014, Drury University
M.S.Ed., 2015, University of Miami
Major: Higher Education Leadership
Dissertation: The College Experiences of Black, Male, Non-Heterosexual Student-Athletes
Advisor: Carol-Anne Phekoo

Peter Michael Rudholm

B.A., 1993, California State University, Los Angeles
M.A., 2005, McNeese State University
Major: Higher Education Leadership
Dissertation: Gender in Higher Education Research: The Problem of Female and Male Categories
Advisor: Debbieciu L. Lee

Erika Carolina Velarde Navarette

B.P.A., 2012, Florida International University
M.S., 2014, Kansas State University
Major: Higher Education Leadership
Dissertation: The Experiences of First-Generation College Students with Academic Advising
Advisor: Carol-Anne Phekoo

DOCTOR OF MUSICAL ARTS

Degree candidates May 9, 2019

Josiah Jeffrey Boornazian

B.M., 2011, California State University, Northridge
M.A., 2013, City College of New York
Major: Jazz Performance Instrumental Essay: Teaching College-Level Jazz Skills Using Interactive Digital Technologies and the Flipped Classroom Model
Advisor: Gary W. Keller

Anruo Cheng B.S., 2011, Nanjing Arts Institute, China M.M., 2016, University of Miami Major: Composition Essay: Data from Non-Musical Material as Spectral Compositional Resources, as Utilized in the Orchestral Work, Hello Universe Advisor: Charles N. Mason	Lauren Hartman B.M., 2010, Simpson College M.M., 2012, University of Northern Iowa Major: Vocal Performance Essay: Beyond the Standard Singing Languages: Incorporating Czech Art Song into the Collegiate Voice Studio Advisor: Judy O. Marchman	Lee Thomas Seidner B.A., 2012, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University M.A., 2013, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University M.M., 2015, University of Miami Major: Instrumental Performance Essay: Setting Your Clarinet Students Up for Success: A Clarinet Fundamentals Guide for Band Directors Advisor: Margaret Ann Flavin

THE GREAT SEAL OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI

The Great Seal of the University of Miami symbolizes exceptional scholarship, a limitless quest for knowledge, and an abiding commitment to service shared by University faculty, staff, and students. The Great Seal includes a stylized sun and palm tree, as well as a shield with the traditional symbols of education—a key, a book, and a torch. The key signifies the unlocking, discovery, or re-evaluation of learning and knowledge; the book holds the Latin words for discovery, preservation, and dissemination of knowledge; and the torch symbolizes the spread and dissemination of learning. Below the shield is the University's Latin motto, from the Book of Esdras, Magna Est Veritas: Great Is Truth.

THE MACE

The academic mace, an enduring symbol of institutional authority and prestige, is a vestige from prehistoric times. First used as a battle weapon, the mace evolved into a ceremonial staff carried in processions of royalty, magistrates, and church or university officials.

The University of Miami's current mace, which dates back to 1986, was sculpted by former UM Professor of Art William Ward. He chose a contemporary design, one that reflects the University's timelessness and perpetual growth from a young institution to one of national prominence. The clean lines and polished silver surface are elegant, dignified, and reflective of colors, textures, and forms in the ever-changing environment. Ward indicated that timelessness is further represented by the mace's geometric design. Rather than employing symbols like books, candles, or globes, he noted that "these geometric shapes are not tied to fad or style but are an integral part of our world. There are obvious relationships to mathematics and the sciences, and as the mace is rotated, some of the planes at the top resemble letters. Its complexity is like the unfolding plot of a good story."

The University of Miami's current mace serves as a symbolic weapon to protect the ideals of truth, justice, and learning. During the commencement ceremony, it is carried at the head of the academic procession by the Grand Marshal, whose symbolic duty is the protection of the University, its people, and its processes.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI PRESIDENTIAL CHAIR

The University of Miami Presidential Chair, or cathedra, takes its place on the commencement stage as a new symbol of the Office of the President. Traditionally representing the seat of learning, the cathedra was designed and crafted by master furniture maker Austin Matheson, an adjunct professor in the School of Architecture whose family history in South Florida predates the University's 1925 founding.

Matheson carved and joined what appear to be the seamless pieces of the chair from a single slab of highly prized and once-abundant Cuban mahogany wood. It was salvaged from a tree felled by a hurricane in nearby Coconut Grove. The fluidity of his design represents the idea that "We Are One U," while his use of a contemporary style and a few traditional flourishes represent the University's rich past and promising future. "The chair is unique. It has no precedent. It stands alone," Matheson said.

Etched by laser, the Great Seal of the University of Miami is prominently displayed on the splat, or back, of the chair. More subtly, twin silhouettes of an ibis head, with its graceful beak, adorn each side of the crest rail. Known for its invincible spirit when hurricanes approach, the marsh bird has been the school mascot since the University opened its doors, just a month after the hurricane of 1926 devastated Miami. Like the chair, the ibis continues to be a symbol of our resilience and renewal as we approach our new century.

THE INVOCATION

Spirituality is an important part of many students' lives and is a traditional element of the commencement exercises. Following the processions and national anthem, each commencement ceremony opens with an invocation offered by a member of the University of Miami Chaplains Association who represents one of the three major faiths, Christianity, Judaism, or Islam. The invocation is meant to celebrate the accomplishments of our students and encourage them to lead lives that embody the virtues that their education has instilled.

ACADEMIC HONORS AND REGALIA

The ceremonies of commencement immerse us in the rich tradition of academic honors and dress that reaches back to the early days of the world's oldest universities.

The University of Miami awards degrees in three basic divisions—the doctorate, master's, and baccalaureate—which can be traced to medieval times. The student receiving a “first degree in arts” was crowned with a wreath of laurel berries, hence “baccalaureate” and “bachelor.” The master’s degree was a license to teach (Licentia docendi), so the “master” was an appropriate title. The doctor was even better qualified to teach, for this degree required advanced study, independent research, and defense of a “thesis.” These standards still apply to the doctorate, except for those conferred honoris causa (as honorary degrees) for meritorious service in public or private endeavor.

Some degrees are awarded with special recognition. For those who have achieved appropriate standards in their work, the words cum laude (with praise), magna cum laude (with high praise), and summa cum laude (with highest praise) are used. Students who have met formal scholarly demands, including both specified courses and high overall grade averages, may graduate with “General Honors.” These achievements are recorded on diplomas and in official transcripts.

From medieval practice, academic dress has three items: cap, gown, and hood. In reviving the use of these items for the United States, an intercollegiate commission in 1895 drafted a code that most universities, including the University of Miami, follow.

For all degrees, the mortarboard is the traditional cap. The tassel may be gold for a doctor or may indicate the field of study.

The bachelor’s gown is black with long, pointed, open sleeves. The master’s gown is black with a long, closed sleeve hanging below the elbow. The doctor’s gown is black and is distinguished by three bars of velvet on a full sleeve.

The academic hood is the identifying symbol of the degree. Its length indicates which degree it represents: three feet for the baccalaureate, three-and-a-half for the master's, and four for the doctorate. The lining indicates the college or university that awarded the degree. University of Miami hoods are lined in orange, green, and white. The color of the velvet band represents the academic discipline. The most frequently seen colors are white for arts, yellow for science, pink for music, sapphire blue for philosophy, purple for law, scarlet for divinity, green for medicine, light blue for education, drab for business, orange for engineering, violet for architecture, gray for general studies, and apricot for nursing.

President Julio Frenk wears a black robe with four black velvet bars. The fourth chevron indicates this is the presidential regalia. The gown features orange and green piping as well as a doctoral hood lined in orange, green and white—reflecting the official University of Miami school colors.

THE MUSIC OF THE CEREMONY

UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI FANFARE

Great universities throughout the country begin their halftime performances with a special fanfare consisting of small portions of their school fight songs and alma mater. The fanfare signals the start of halftime festivities, exciting the crowd and encouraging loyal fans to remain in their seats during the band's performance. Following the Miami Hurricane's National Championship season in 2001-2002, David Lambert, D.M.A.'05, wrote a similar fanfare for the University of Miami. "UM Fanfare" was premiered by the University of Miami Band of the Hour during the 2004 Miami Hurricane home football opener versus Florida State University. It has since been performed as a prelude to all Band of the Hour performances and has become a part of the University of Miami's commencement to announce the opening of the ceremony.

PRESIDENT'S PROCESSIONAL FANFARE

Commencement ceremonies are rich in history, tradition, and ritual. Over the years, the University of Miami has had a number of talented musicians and composers contribute to that history and tradition. The "President's Processional Fanfare – Toward Our New Century" was commissioned by the Phillip and Patricia Frost School of Music for the inauguration of the University of Miami's sixth president, Julio Frenk. Written by Brian Balmages, M.M. '00, the fanfare premiered on January 29, 2016, at President Frenk's inauguration ceremony.

THE MUSIC OF HENRY FILLMORE

Henry Fillmore, the American composer and bandleader best known for his marches, was an ardent supporter, friend, and benefactor of the University of Miami band. After retiring to Miami, he quickly adopted the Band of the Hour at the University of Miami as his own. As a result, he was named "permanent guest conductor" of the band, and in appreciation of his dedication, the University awarded Fillmore an honorary doctorate in music. Fillmore's prominence as a band composer and his tireless dedication to the field of music remain his legacy. Benefiting most from his musical passion and artistry was the University of Miami band, to which he bequeathed most of his estate. The Henry Fillmore Band Hall, dedicated in 1959 along with the Fillmore Museum, is a symbol of that legacy.

The recessional music today is but a small part of his life's work. Each selection has a unique relationship to Miami and the University. "The Miami March" was dedicated to the community of Greater Miami, which enthusiastically supported Fillmore and his music.

ALMA MATER

William S. Lampe and Christine Asdurian
Arranged by Henry Fillmore

Southern suns and sky blue water
Smile upon you Alma Mater
Mistress of this fruitful land
With all knowledge at your hand
Always just, to honor true
All our love we pledge to you
Alma Mater
Stand forever
On Biscayne's wondrous shore.

The musical score consists of four staves. The top staff (Soprano) starts with "South - ern suns and". The second staff (Alto) starts with "Mis - tress of this". The third staff (Tenor) starts with "With all know - ledge". The bottom staff (Bass) starts with "Al - ways just, to". The piano part (labeled P) provides harmonic support throughout the piece.
